designed by Alessandro Pasinelli

Quello che nell'industria grafica era un tempo considerato un difetto, cioè la comparsa indesiderata di striature sfumate, diventa invece il vero valore aggiunto di nuove superfici ceramiche.

What was once considered a defect in the graphics industry, namely the undesirable appearance of shaded streaks, now becomes the real added value of new ceramic surfaces.

Il termine moiré sta a indicare una figura di interferenza, creata in questo caso da due griglie uguali sovrapposte ma spostate leggermente con diversa angolatura, sviluppate poi ulteriormente mettendo insieme tre colori per ogni nuance.

The term 'moiré' describes a figure of interference, created in this case by two identical grids superimposed but shifted slightly at different angles, then further developed by putting together three colours to achieve each nuance.

Moiré nasce con l'intento di ottenere una superficie di grande formato, grafica, contemporanea e decorativa, dall'effetto mazzato. La superficie presenta quindi un'originale texture, simile ad onde in movimento, che appare ai nostri occhi come una terza trama differente dal design affascinante.

La collezione è composta da 5 colori in tonalità calde e fredde nel formato 120x280cm di spessore 6 mm.

Ogni lastra ha una sola faccia ed è 'seamless' per facilitare la posa e la composizione. La massima espressione di Moiré è il rivestimento di grandi superfici per via del movimento grafico infinito che si può generare attraverso l'accostamento delle lastre. Il mondo Horeca è sicuramente quello in cui la collezione può esprimere al meglio le sue caratteristiche estetiche e pratiche, quali ad esempio pavimenti e pareti di hotel, negozi e locali pubblici, mentre in ambito residenziale Moiré si presta per rivestire porzioni di pareti e architetture in abbinamento a fondi in tinte unita o a pietre e cementi.

Moiré was created with the intention of obtaining a large-sized, graphic, contemporary and decorative surface with a marbled effect. This creates a surface with an original texture, similar to moving waves, which creates the effect of a third, different texture with a fascinating design. The collection consists of 5 colours in warm and cold shades in size 120x280cm - 48"x110" with a thickness of 6 mm. Each layer has only one face and is 'seamless' to facilitate laying and composition. Moiré is at its best when covering large surfaces because of the infinite graphic movement that can be created by placing the slabs side by side. The collection is certainly most suited to the hospitality and catering sector, where it can best express its aesthetic and practical characteristics, such as floors and walls in hotels, shops and public places, while in the residential field Moiré is suitable for covering portions of walls and architecture in combination with plain-coloured backgrounds or with stone and cement.
